DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 2, 3, 5-13, and 15 -20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Spies, 5726887.
3. Spies discloses a main control portion (1), a safing control portion (2); and oscillator that is an RC circuit (2b); communication between the two portions through at least two I/O ports (2d, 1a, 1c); verifying operation of the main control portion in column 3; communication an indication of status of the main control portion (2b); the communication is digital on column 3; the safing portion if an IC on lines 10-15, on column 4.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claims 4 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Spies, 5726887, in view of Spangler et al., 5433101.

7. Spies discloses the limitations as set forth above. He does not disclose at least one sensor and the main control program partially deflects the sensor to provide a test output signal. Spangler teaches one sensor and the main control program partially deflects the sensor to provide a test output signal. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the teachings of Spangler in the invention of Spies because such modification would provide for detection of catastrophic faults such as malfunctions or reduced function in the impact sensing components as stated on lines 18-22, on column 7.
